Original synthetic laboratory record: coral escape. Coral renders the original document as text. It must not insert document content through innerHTML. Only recorded fields may be used; omitted quantities, passwords and external claims are unknown.